Why join TECHNATION?

The key benefits of TECHNATION membership includes our advocacy, networking and professional development opportunities. Members are also encouraged to exercise their membership by joining a committee and helping build the strength of our messaging to advocate for a strong digital society for the benefit of all Canadians. This includes influencing our submissions on policy issues and the legislative process; helping to accelerate innovative ICT adoption in all dimensions of the Canadian economy (government, healthcare, enterprise and SME businesses in all sectors) to demonstrate world-class excellence in the use of technology; and creating high-value relationships and business partnerships with industry, academic and government leaders through business and networking events.

If you have any questions about your membership – or would like to recommend an industry peer – contact TECHNATION's Director of Membership, Mariana Kutin Morais at mkutin_morais@technationcanada.ca.
