

Wage subsidy increase – hire a student in 2021!

Where can your business benefit from additional resources? Students are an ideal source of people power to boost and innovate your operations. It's time to check in with your business units to find out who needs support.

Employing work term students is also an effective recruiting tool and supports the development of skills in the next generation of Canada's workforce.

We're excited to announce that wage subsidies have now increased – get up to $7,500 per student. Applications for the Winter 2021 Program open October 21st.

If you need help finding a student or are not sure if your job postings qualify – be sure to let us know. Interested members should connect with Senior Program Manager, Brett Hotas or click here to learn more.

CAREER READY PROGRAM: EMPLOYER TESTIMONIAL

"In the post-COVID landscape, marketing and social media remain front of mind for companies like ours. We are keen to engage with brilliant students who can help enhance our engagement with parks, places and spaces, and other similar organizations around the world - even in an era of tightening budgets. Thanks to support from TECHNATION, we have been able to bolster our social media outreach, and we hope to continue working with them going forward."

Mary Clark, CEO of Agents of Discovery, an innovation-focused Canadian company that partners with Career Ready regularly.
